

THE STRATFORD WAY 1972-'73

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The World of the Twentieth Century is not a very stable time in history. Two world wars have been fought to preserve "peace and freedom". Numerous skirmishes, some as extensive as a full-blown war, have been taking place in the middle east, India, Pakistan, Korea, and Cambodia. Insurrections against ruling groups have resulted in a number of countries changing their governing bodies. Conflicts have developed for many reasons. Foremost among these reasons has been economic rivalry, be it in international trade, disputes over territory, or in treaties with which the signing nations are now in disagreement. Cultural antipathies have resulted in language and racial conflicts. Religious differences have sparked many a conflict. Individual acts of injustice which deprive citizens of their rights and freedoms engender animosities. Hate and fear go hand in hand and develop mainly through ignorance. Factions and ideologies foment cultural discords which often boil over in a country nurturing conflict and war. The very diversity of mankind seems to be the cause of our conflictions. Surely it need not be. As a Christian nation we profess peace, justice, freedom of religion and cultural practices, an equatable distribution of this world's goods among nations, freedom from fear and want and hunger. How simply we say those words, yet how difficult is their application to our daily lives. Let our actions nurture the freedoms we profess. Let us relieve the deprivations of poverty. Let us break the chains that oppress people. Let education banish the serfdom of ignorance. Let justice and tood-will be our guidelines for human endeavour. Our golden age is yet

President's Message

Three years ago, when we entered Stratford Junior High, we were a group of frightened Grade Seven's. Everything was big and new and strange. But, it was not long before we grew accustomed to the school and had made many new friends. We found that many new responsibilities awaited us but there were also many new interests to challenge us. Above all, we soon became aware of Stratford's friendly atmosphere.

As our years have passed, we filled our roles as participants and spectators in the many activities offered to us in Stratford. There are many pleasant memories that we will carry away with us. We are grateful too, to the teachers who have endeavoured to make these years worthwhile, but at the same time, enjoyable.

Our years in Stratford have been really fun and exciting but, of course, the main purpose of a school is to provide its students with the best possible learning opportunites. This, Stratford does. It has an outstanding educational program and a staff of excellent teachers.

Our time at Stratford is ended, and we must move on to new experiences and challenges. But, even though we are eager for the new, we leave you with some sadness - Stratford.
